

Make Dresses And Buy Bonds

Feed Sacks, New Dress—A combination of four white feed sacks, a package of dye and 60 white buttons, plus plenty of ambition, enabled Mrs. Frank Dees, Three Notch home demonstration club member, Mobile County, to have a brand new dress.

Mrs. Dees ripped, washed, and bleached the sacks well, made the dress and then dyed it navy blue. The only trimming used was the white buttons. After dyeing the dress she rolled it in a heavy towel to absorb some of the dye water in order to get a well-blended color.

Mrs. Dees designs and makes all her clothes. She has made four other dresses from feed sacks. "I also made a slip from sacks, using the pattern that I drafted in the home demonstration club meeting, and it's the most satisfactory slip I have," said Mrs. Dees.

Demonstration Helps Builders—Mrs. Orval Lindsey, Marion County home demonstration club woman, is building a new home. She says: "The extension demonstration this month on Storage Space for the Farm Home has helped me in planning the bedroom closets, the pantry in the dining room, and the storage space in the kitchen."

Believes In Living At Home—Mrs. Troy Montz, Perry County Live-at-Home Chairman, really believes in living at home and helping her neighbors to do the same. For her family of three, Mrs. Montz has canned and preserved 456 pints of foods—vegetables, fruits, soup mixture, tomato juice, pickles, and chicken gumbo.

In addition to canning for her own family, Mrs. Montz canned and helped can for relatives and friends 60 pints of chicken gumbo and 92 pints of beans.

Sacrifice To Buy Bonds—Mrs. Bertha Pogue, Tallapoosa County farm homemaker, pledges $300.00 annual savings for war bonds. The saving rate from her farm income is much less than her war bond pledge, but she says "This is not enough, I want to sacrifice; therefore, my pledge will be $300.00."

Buying Bonds Makes Strong Homefront—Although the savings rate to buy war bonds from her farm income would indicate that Mrs. Estelle Foshee, Rt. 4, Alexander City, would buy only $62.40 worth of bonds, Mrs. Foshee says she "wants the homefront to be strong." She sacrifices and pledges to buy $325.00 worth of bonds.

Arrangements have been worked out whereby Alabama farmers may apply to county agents for fingerling fish to use in stocking their fish ponds. The top picture shows G. H. Campbell, Dadeville, Route 2, applying to County Agent F. N. Farrington for fingerling fish, while the lower picture shows Mr. Campbell planting a fingerling fish in the pond.

1944 Wire And Nails

WITH some exceptions, the supply situation on merchant steel products, including barbed wire, woven wire, poultry netting, nails and staples, bale ties, galvanized sheets and strips, and pipe is expected to be reasonably good.

Farmers can expect to have as much, and perhaps more, of barbed and woven wire, nails and staples, bale ties and pipe as they had in 1943. Poultry netting will be in short supply—about 30 per cent below the 1941 level—but some lightweight poultry fence will be produced and can be used in place of netting. Galvanized sheets and strips will be in shorter supply.

Wealth In Bad Lands

SCATTERED over the country in small parcels is farm land estimated to total more than 33 million acres that cannot be tilled or used for pasture or timber.

These acres, says the USDA, are hidden assets and could be made to yield valuable food and war materials. Some are gullied, others wet or with rocky outcroppings, or sandy, acid, or alkaline soil, or in scrub woodland.

Such land may be made to support blueberries or blackberries, wild plums, cherries, grapes, currants, elderberries, hazel nuts and filberts, and other wild plants producing food; also to provide cover for wild life.

Two Important Lespedeza Jobs

TWO November jobs with sericea are:

1. Harvest sericea seed to plant all acreage needed on the farm and to have some to sell.
2. Prepare land where sericea is to be seeded if it is not so rolling that erosion will be serious as a result of the fall preparation. Many failures are due to poor soil preparation. In spring land is thoroughly prepared for crops. Frequent rains limit plowing. Fall preparation insures a seed bed ready on time.

Lespedeza sericea provides hay, grazing and soil improvement.

Farmers Face Big Job During 1944

corn; 1,585,000 acres of cotton; 1,300,000 acres of all tame hay; 326,000 acres of oats; 124,000 acres of sweet potatoes; 77,000 acres commercial vegetables; 60,000 acres of sorghums for grain; and 20,000 acres of wheat.

The Alabama livestock goals for next year are: 1,309,000,000 pounds milk; 63,750,000 dozen eggs; 8,337,000 hens; 16,000,000 chickens raised on farm; 162,000 turkeys; 135,000 spring sows; 140,000 fall sows; 1,153,000 cattle and calves; and 44,000 sheep and lambs.

Cottonseed Rules Changed For South

REGULATIONS controlling prices of cottonseed oil meal, cake, sized cake and pellets, and cottonseed hulls and hull bran, have been amended by the Office of Price Administration to remove a provision which tended to draw this feed from the South to the North. The premium of $1 a carload for sales in the North has been discontinued.

Nitrate For Fruit Trees

MANY orchardists commonly apply cyanamid fertilizer in the fall. This year there is no supply available. But there's a good substitute—ammonium nitrate. It gives comparable results to cyanamid. Besides, it's cheaper. Growers should make application directly to nearby manufacturers or dealers. Ammonium nitrate should be applied immediately after receipt. It hardens after storage.

Fewer "Nuts To You"

THE average American will eat only about a pound of nut meats this year, instead of the pound and a third he ate before the war. The nut trees in this country are producing large crops of walnuts, pecans and filberts, but not quite as many almonds as last year. The almonds and walnuts which used to come from Asia and Europe are wartime casualties, and there are fewer cashews from India and Brazil nuts from South America.

FOOD PRODUCTION WAR TRAINING PROGRAM

The Food Production War Training Program for Coffee County is being started, according to County Superintendent of Education A. C. Dunaway. Plans were made for the program at a special meeting last week of teachers of vocational agriculture and others interested in the program. Representing the State Department of Education and present in the program were the food production program this year, now in its third year, is designed entirely to increase food production in 1944. In addition to courses dealing directly with the needed wartime foods, a special feature of interest to all farmers is the course in farm machinery repairs. Supt. Dunaway says these classes will be organized and supervised by the teachers of vocational agriculture in addition to their regular work, and the instructors will be local people with successful experience in the courses taught.

These courses will be available without cost and further information can be secured from Supt. Dunaway, your teacher of vocational agriculture, or school principal.

PROMOTED TO CAPTAIN

Among recent promotions announced by the War Department was that of First Lieutenant Charles Rudolph Bonneau, who has been promoted to Captain. Captain Bonneau has been stationed for several months with the 276th Field Artillery at Camp Phillips, Kansas. Previous to going to Kansas he was stationed in Texas and Oklahoma with the original Field Artillery Battery from Elba. Friends will be glad to learn of his advancement.

DENTAL HEALTH WEEK NOV. 14 THROUGH 20

As was predicted, the Enterprise Wildcat gave the Elba Tigers a decisive but not a wholly one-sided defeat here Friday night. Be it said to the credit of the Elba boys that they showed the best fighting spirit they have shown all season, and fought against heavy odds throughout the game. The score was 24-0, which under existing conditions, was quite satisfactory to Elba football fans, who understand the handicaps the Tigers have been confronted with this season.

The game scheduled for Elba Friday night has been transferred to Hartford and will be played there this (Thursday) afternoon.

BASIL WHITMAN HAS LANDED IN ENGLAND

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Whitman, Elba, Route 2, last week received a letter from their son, Basil, stating that he had landed safely and was well and enjoying himself. His letter is quoted here: "I am some place in England. I have seen a good bit of it and it resembles some parts of the states. I had a fairly good trip, never got seasick which made me happy. There were a lot of the boys who were really sick. I guess you thought I wasn't going to write any more, but it was impossible to correspond. At the same time you heard from me before I did you. I lay down last night and read 26 letters and 2 papers. Sure enjoyed them as they were. I was written in September. We have it pretty nice here, not much different from the states. I was very much surprised at the conveniences we have. If any of the boys from around home are here, send me their address. Tell all the folks hello. I will write more soon. Love—Basil."

PEANUT GROWERS SHOULD SELECT SEED

Now is the time to select peanuts suitable for planting purposes to insure an ample supply of seed for the next year's crop, states J. C. Lowery, extension agronomist of A. P. L. Auburn. Peanuts in most sections of the state which have been harvested under reasonable conditions should be high in germination.

Many farmers obtained poor stands last spring due to poor quality seed. This can be avoided next year by saving good planting seed from this year's crop. With peanuts needed so badly in the war effort farmers cannot take chances on poor stands next spring.
